THE FOREIGN NEWS.

PEACE DECLARED!

If the world was somewhat startled in May last by the sudden outbreak of hostilities between France and Austria, it will be even more astonished by the equally sudden restoration of peace. The steamship "North Briton," which arrived at Quebec yesterday, with Liverpool dates to the 13th, brings the news that the war is at an end that France and Austria have "kissed and made up?" That Lombardy has been quickly transferred to Sardinia; that Austria retains Venice and her famous strongholds in Northern Italy; that the Pope is to be President of the "Italian Confederation," with his temporal power considerably increased, and that Louis Napoleon, after his short, sharp and decisive two months' campaign in Italy, returns in triumph to Paris. What is to become of Hungary, Tuscany, Parma, and the insurrectionary or revolutionary movements in other States and Principalities of Europe, does not yet appear. The probability, however, is that they will be restored to the status quo ante bellum, or, in other words, reduced to subjection.

The English press, as we gather from the rather vague despatches, is greatly disatisfied with the conditions of peace, though not with the peace itself. The Times thinks the end is not yet, and that Louis Napoleon has not finished his "game." Evidently John Bull is more than suspicious of his Gallican neighbor; though there is no apparent cause to warrant this suspicion. But "trifles light as air" are enough to excite the old feeling between France and the Empire. The public will wait with intense interest for further details of the peace and the results which are likely to follow it.

Fluctuations of the Wheat Market.

A glance at the raps and downs of the produce market for the past six months, is calculated to give one a rather vivid impression of the vacillating character of the grain business. The following statement shows the current prices of wheat and flour in this market on the 1st and 15th of each month since the beginning of the year:

But this does not show the full extent of the downward movement. The current prices at the present writing are 55¢ for No. 1 spring, 70¢ for extra club, and 40¢ for country spring extra door, indicating a decline in something better than two months, of ninety-five cents on No. 1, eighty-five to ninety on extra club and three dollars to three dollars and a half on flour. This, we think is the lowest and most rapid decline on record.—The unexpected advance was altogether the result of speculative influence based on the expectation of a very short supply of bread-stuffs in the country, and the expectation of an increased foreign demand consequent upon the war. The excitement reached its highest pitch about the middle of May, when No. 1 was selling at $1.40, extra club at $1.55 $1.65, ordinary country ground spring extra flour at $7.00-$7.50 and the sales ranging from twenty to eighty thousand bushels of wheat, and two to ten thousand barrels of flour each day. The anticipations on which the market was inflated to such an extent having proved groundless, a collapse of course was inevitable; and we are now experiencing the effects of that wild excitement. The Press & Tribune estimates the losses here and in Chicago in consequence of the reaction in wheat at less than half a million dollars, and as Chicago was the great centre of wheat gambling, our contemporary knows whereof it speaks. What effect the announcement of peace will have upon breadstuffs the future can only tell. We do not think, however, that prices of wheat can be much lower than at present, and indeed we shall rather look for a slight improvement than any further decline, as soon as the effects of the reactive shock have passed away. The best evidence that wheat is depressed to an undue extent at present is the fact that corn has for some time been from five to ten cents higher than the standard grade of wheat. The new crop is also far superior in quality to that now in market.

NARROW ESCAPE OF NAPOLEON.—A letter has been received in Paris from Baron Larrey, the Emperor's surgeon, in which he states that his horse was killed by a bullet, which, had it not been intercepted, would probably have struck the Emperor.

"Fugitive Slaves on the Back Track."

The News of Sunday makes haste to copy an article, under the above heading, from the Cleveland "Democrat," a zealous "National Administration" organ, and devoted, of course, to BUCHANAN and SLAVERY.

The following paragraphs from the Cleveland Leader, Republican, and the Cleveland Plain Dealer, Democrat, will show how completely the News has been "sold," in reproducing the Democrats' "weak invention."

Now So.—The statement of the National Democrat, that the fugitive slaves were still in the South, is an entire fabrication. Not one of them born in Canada, and half of the balance were from Europe. Five, a man, woman, and three children, were captured. The News has been "sold," in reproducing the Democrats' "weak invention."
